We'd be leaving at "O'dark thirty" to make it by 1:00 or 1:30 pm. Unless we flew to Durango and then rented a car to Silverton & Telluride.

Monday is Memorial Day, do you think they will still have a meeting? And can we get there in time to make the meeting on Tuesday afternoon if we left Tuesday?

If we are in Silverton the last week of May, we might want to swing over to the San Juan mining conference on the 28th and 29th in Telluride.

To those with mining sites in Colorado this conference may be interesting to you.

This conference is put on by Colorado San Juan's area watershed groups and other organizations that have an interest in the legacy impact of mining. It was held in Creede last year and it was very interesting. There is not much information yet, but it will be forthcoming on this web page (as well as other webpages).

I only targeted those RPMs with Colorado mining sites, but feel free to distribute more widely.
